EXPERIENCE THE MAGIC OF STRINGS AT THE PALACE THEATRE!

Join Open Doors, Highly Strung string quartet, Inspire Music, and the talented students of Newark School of Musical Instrument Crafts for an unforgettable Saturday at the Palace Theatre and National Civil War Centre, celebrating the enchanting world of the string family!

MORNING MELODY: AN INTRODUCTION CONCERT

Kick off the day with a spellbinding introduction concert, where the violin, viola, and cello come alive in the hands of professional musicians. Guided by Milly (Open Doors Creative Arts Officer), you'll explore the unique sounds of each instrument, from their soaring highs to their soulful lows. Recognize familiar tunes and uncover how these instruments weave stories through music.

BOOK YOUR FREE SPOT NOW!

DISCOVER THE CRAFT

Step into the Tudor Hall and peer inside the instruments to see the intricate craftsmanship behind its beautiful sound. You might even try your hand at a stage of making an instrument yourself!

HANDS-ON FUN WITH INSPIRE MUSIC

Meet the team from Inspire Music, grab an instrument, and experience the joy of making music yourself. Whether you're a beginner or a budding virtuoso, this is your chance to play!

AFTERNOON CONCERT: STRING QUARTET IN THE TUDOR HALL

As the day progresses, enjoy another chance to hear the stunning string quartet perform in the Tudor Hall and to hear a live classical guitarist in an informal concert.
